Details Ready For Dinner of Local Chamber

Election of Directors Due; Tully Knoles To Speak

Arrangements for the big annual chamber of commerce and service club banquet were completed at a meeting of the joint committees on Tuesday at the chamber of commerce office.

The event will be held at Sequoia high school December 27. The committee on arrangements will also serve as a reception committee. The members are: Chamber of commerce committee: R. C. White, chairman, J. E. Baughn, Sam Winklebleck, Clifton Woodhams, G. R. Kennedy; Kiwanis Club: John E. Layng, John Gill; Exchange Club: Dr. W. B. Langston, A. H. Davies; Lions Club: Perry Bygdnes, George McQueen; Yomecan Club: Louis Dematteis.

Charles G. Lambert will be in charge of group singing. There will also be brief talks by the presidents of each of the service clubs. J. E. Morrish, president of the chamber of commerce, will preside. Six new directors of the chamber of commerce will be selected at the meeting. The nominees are: G. R. Kennedy, Carl Mabie, John Gill, D. P. Washburn, James Hedge, C. F. Andrews, Dr. W. H. Taylor, Clifton Woodhams, W. D. Ryan, Clarence Choate, A. H. Davies and Edward Harrison.

The guest speaker will be Dr. Tully C. Knoles, president of the College of the Pacific, who will speak on the subject "America's Way Out." Chairman White and his committee have decided to make this the biggest civic dinner in the history of the community. They want every active business and professional man in attendance. All service clubs will attend to the full capacity of their membership and all other business people of the community will be called upon by members of the committee.

Faster Train Service Plans Are Discussed

Two possible plans for more rapid train service between San Francisco and peninsula cities were discussed at a meeting in the Hotel Benjamin Franklin chamber of commerce rooms, San Mateo, last week by the general and special committees headed by Elmore B. Hinman of Redwood City.

One plan was advanced by P. R. Thompson, San Francisco real estate man and member of the Commonwealth Club, who has made a special study of the question.

Thompson's plan calls for an electrified system utilizing the old Valencia street line of the Southern Pacific. He would route the cars up Market street with subway or elevated passages, utilize the Twin Peaks tunnel, and connect with the Valencia street or Market street lines down the peninsula to Burlingame, and then electrify the Southern Pacific from Burlingame south to San Jose.

Cleve F. Shaffer, another San Francisco realty man, discussed a plan for subwaying a loop through the financial and commercial districts and bringing the traffic to a central terminal at Seventh street. His plan makes the peninsula problem incidental to the San Francisco transportation needs.

Thompson's plan was looked on with favor by the committee, although the group felt that engineers must be consulted to say whether it is feasible or not, as it passes through populated districts in its entirety.

This, it was said, would assure the line paying its way. To bring the line down the Bayshore highway, as has been discussed, would take it away from all of the populated sections, it was said.

The Twin Peaks run, while it appears to be an out of the way route to the peninsula, would be made desirable by eliminating grade crossings and slow street level passages by construction of either elevated or subway lines, Thompson said.

Chairman Hinman named the following as heads of their respective committees:

Technical—John W. Coleberd of South San Francisco; finance—J. H. Sullivan of Menlo Park; organization—Winfield Scott of Atherton; uptown terminal—P. R. Thompson of San Francisco.

[EDITORIAL]

BUY YOUR YULETIDE GIFTS RIGHT HERE!

Redwood City shoppers are responding with gratifying results to the "buy it here" appeal of their year-round merchants. This spirit gives the assurance that it will be a "Merry Christmas" for the Redwood City retailers—a reward for their efforts to serve the people of the community.

There is still need, however, of further emphasis on the importance of buying at home. In the final gift-buying rush, remember your local merchant. Give him the opportunity to serve you, first!

Nothing is more enjoyable than a leisure day of shopping "at home" in Redwood City. Virtually everything that the market has to offer has been brought here by Redwood City's progressive merchants. Nothing that can be shown you somewhere else could not likewise be made available to you here.

Price and quality and quantity are here; alert clerks are here ready to give you courteous and personal service in getting just the right gift for each member of the family; your own neighbor is the merchant behind the counter ready to guarantee the article you buy.

Get uptown tomorrow and shop with your Redwood City merchants.

'CERTAINLY I FIX TAGS,' JUDGE TELLS ASSEMBLY

"Certainly I fix tags, but, as I believe, justly."

Provoked by the numerous criticisms of the tag fixing custom as one of the prevailing causes of disregard for traffic laws, Justice of the Peace Edward Farrell of South San Francisco spoke as above in his own defense Monday afternoon at the assemblage of officials and civic leaders at San Mateo gathered to consider the problem of the growing casualty record and terrible death toll on the Bayshore highway.

"I am called the 'greatest tag fixer in the world'," said Judge Farrell. "And I state right here that I won't put any bread winner in jail and see his family starve for some fool violation. But I give him some good advice."

The judge, amplifying on that point, cited an instance in which he had let a drunken driver off with a lecture, and elicited a pledge from the culprit never to drink again. "That was of more good to the world than any jail sentence would have been," declared the magistrate.

Palo Alto's traffic policing plan is getting the desired results, Chief of Police Howard A. Zink and Sergeant L. H. Grieb, traffic officer, declared in addressing the San Mateo conference yesterday afternoon regarding the Bayshore highway accident problem.

"At first I didn't think it could be done," said Chief Zink, in giving credit to the board of public safety for the plan of rigid enforcement adopted in Palo Alto. "But it has worked."

Chief Zink said that an enforcement drive cannot be successful beyond the desires of the people. The fact that it has succeeded indicates that the people are behind it, he said.

The police chief credited the policy of the local court as conducive in part to the success of the plan. He said the judge reduces penalties, but gives the defendants in court a sermon on the gospel of safety. An officer's warnings, the chief said, are of little avail, but in court the people listen. The arrests made, according to Zink, give the judge his opportunity. "People come into court with fire in their eyes, but go away sold on the safety plan," he concluded.

Sergeant Grieb declared that prior to adoption of the enforcement policy now followed in Palo Alto the automobile wrecks in the city averaged five a day, whereas now they are negligible in number, and usually involve outside parties.

A strong, special plea for better safety conditions on the Bayshore highway to protect East Palo Alto residents who are obliged to cross that dangerous thoroughfare was made at the San Mateo conference yesterday afternoon by A. Groves, president of the East Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce. He cited the facts that there are 30 intersections at East Palo Alto, with about 2,000 crossings of the highway being made daily by residents there. Fifty per cent of the accidents on the Bayshore highway occur there, he added. Mr. Groves recommended that red signs be installed at local points, that stop-and-go signals be installed at University avenue, and that the speed limit be lowered to 25 miles an hour for the segment of the highway passing East Palo Alto.

The beautification feature should not be lost sight of in whatever physical plans are made to lessen traffic danger on the highways, Mrs. F. R. Wheeler told the San Mateo conference on Bayshore highway conditions yesterday afternoon. Speaking as a representative of the California Council for Protection of Roadside Beauty, Mrs. Wheeler suggested that if a center parking space is added for safety reasons, it be planted to trees and shrubbery.

If any complaints of tag-fixing are made, the county grand jury will take up the matter, Foreman Martin Poss said today as the group gathered for an afternoon meeting in the courthouse.

San Mateo Is to Have Air Show

World-famous men and women flyers, including many speed-record holders and others who have previously achieved outstanding marks and will seek to regain their former laurels at the coming air meet, are to take part in the speed-flying races, closed course aerial sprints, sportsmen pilots' events and stunting exhibitions at the Pacific International Air Pageant, at Curtiss-Wright flying field, San Mateo, next Saturday and Sunday.

The two-days' aerial program, to be staged under the auspices of the National Aeronautic Association, will also officially commemorate National Aviation Day, marking the thirtieth anniversary of the first airplane flight, by the Wright Brothers at Kitty Hawk, N. C.

A nation-wide radio program from Washington, D. C., the night of December 16, will be a feature of the country's observance of National Aviation Day.

Watsonville jurors refused to accept fees in two trials and waived traveling expenses as a means of cutting public expenses.

For 23 years a clock in the sheriff's office at Las Vegas, Nev., kept time without needing repairs.

Holiday Greens Sellers Warned To Have License

Persons offering Christmas trees, wreaths or other holiday greens for sale upon the streets of Redwood City, on vacant lots, or anywhere within the municipality, must pay a license of $25 per day.

This was the warning sounded today by the city collector's office at the city hall. Admittedly, the high license is to discourage "traveling merchants" in favor of established businessmen who are already paying their regular business licenses.

Nelson Heirs Now Seek His Property

Heirs of John L. Nelson, aged Burlingame man whose will was ordered revoked because of the undue influence of Mrs. Myrtle Snyfeld, Nelson's housekeeper, today brought a complaint here to secure cancellation of a deed to Nelson's home.

The home was deeded by Nelson to his housekeeper on July 17, 1930. This was about six months after Nelson first met her. Nelson left a $10,680 estate which heirs will share through the decision of the district court of appeals breaking the will.

Rapid Transit Need Seen by Supervisors

Planning Commission Asked to Assist In Solution

Competition, of the Marin and Eastbay shores will be keenly felt on the completion of the Golden Gate and Oakland bridges, and something must be done to speed up peninsula railroad transportation services, the board of San Mateo County Supervisors agreed Monday.

The board adopted a resolution authorizing and directing the San Mateo County Planning Commission and its technical staff and other county agencies to cooperate with the transportation committee named some weeks ago by the peninsula chambers of commerce and headed by County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman of Redwood City.

"The problem of rapid and convenient transportation of passengers between stations in San Mateo county and the city and county of San Francisco is rendered acute by reason of the better transportation facilities to eastbay points which will soon be provided by the completion of the bridges now under construction," a resolution read, in part.

The resolution was adopted by the board upon motion of Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, and the second of Supervisor Manuel Francis, Half Moon Bay.

Protests Expense

District Attorney Edmund Scott protested to the board on the continual demands by San Francisco right-of-way agents for salaries for work done on the Daly City bottleneck widening project.

Scott said that he believes this work should have been completed sometime ago, and said he thought the supervisors should demand a detailed explanation of the new claims filed yesterday.

The claims were those of F. H. Somers for $305 and C. I. Haley for $284 for services in connection with the Mission street widening.

Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, said he felt like Scott did about the matter, and the board agreed that Joseph J. 'Phillips, San Francisco right-of-way agent, should explain next Monday just how much more work is to be done by the land purchasers.

To Compel Work

An ordinance to compel the Market Street Railroad Company to tear up and relocate its tracks on Mission street in the widening project at the same time that the paving work is undertaken was presented to the supervisors for adoption.

The ordinance came from the California Division of Highways. It covers 1.6 miles of improvements affecting the street railway's tracks.

The board continued the matter for one week for a legal ruling at the request of Supervisor Witt. Witt said he is appealing to the company to extend its 5-cent fare limits to Colma.

Ask Improvements

The supervisors adopted a resolution presented by the Bayshore Improvement and Social Club asking the City and County of San Francisco to improve Geneva avenue because of its importance as a Mission street.

The Voters' League of Brisbane protested the sewer condition in Brisbane, and asked that subdividers of the property be forced to maintain the system. The matter was referred to the planning commission and the district attorney for investigations.

Supervisor Witt secured a two weeks' delay in the rejection of a permit to the South San Francisco Scavengers' Company for the right to dispose of garbage on the present city dump at South San Francisco.

Dr. Harold Morrison, county health officer, recommended against the permit. Witt will confer with the scavengers to see if they will roll the dump and cover it with earth each day.

Other Board Items

County Fire Warden Bert Werder informed the board he has $1500 left in his departmental budget which he will use toward the expenses of maintaining the federal labor camp in Memorial Park.

Request of Burlingame for $500 toward traffic signals cannot be met, the board was informed by District Attorney Scott.

The claim of Ernest Shaul for $5000 for injuries incurred in stumbling over a road scraper in Memorial Park was rejected by the board.

Approval was given for the expenditure of $32 to erect signs on the Sand Hill road directing motorists to Searsville Lake.

The board adopted a resolution abandoning a public lane in Loma Mar near Pescadero.

Dr. Peddicord Heads County Health Board

New Members Seated; Garbage Dumps To Be Inspected

Dr. Harper Peddicord, well-known Redwood City physician, Monday was named chairman of the San Mateo County Board of Health at a reorganization meeting in the offices of County Manager Walter T. Kellogg.

Two new board members were seated: Mrs. Elsa McGinn, San Mateo clubwoman, and W. C. Hammatt, San Mateo civil and sanitary engineer. They succeed Mrs. Harry Dana, also a San Mateo clubwoman, and A. W. Deuel, manager of the San Mateo-Hayward bridge.

The latter resigned during the controversy over Dr. Harold E. Morrison, public health officer.

Dr. E. W. Cleary, Burlingame, and Miss Pansy Jewett Abbott, county superintendent of schools, complete the board's personnel. Miss Abbott is retained as secretary.

The first business of the reorganized board came yesterday when a day of inspection of the garbage dumps of the peninsula was made. Dumps at Bayshore, South San Francisco, Lawndale and San Mateo, and the proposed dump at Mills Field, were inspected.

Dr. Morrison as health chief was accompanyed the board, and the group will decide upon a recommendation to be made to the supervisors. This recommendation is expected to finally settle the question whether or not San Francisco will secure the privilege of dumping its garbage at Mills airport.

Judge's View In Will Trial Held in Error

The district court of appeal Tuesday reversed a directed verdict of former Judge George H. Buck and agreed with a jury that the will of John L. Nelson, 75, of Burlingame, should be broken.

Loser by the high court's decision is Mrs. Myrtle L. Snyfeld of Burlingame, formerly of Alameda, who was left the $10,680 estate of Nelson.

Mrs. Snyfeld met Nelson through her husband, an itinerant brush salesman, and shortly afterward the Snyfelds moved from the Eastbay and took up their abode with Nelson.

For 18 months thereafter, Mrs. Snyfeld acted as Nelson's housekeeper. Nelson died on Janary 4, 1932, and his will, written on September 29, 1931, cut off his relatives and left the whole estate to Mrs. Snyfeld.

Charles Nelson, a brother who had been exceptionally close to Nelson for over 50 years, was cut off entirely, as was Arthur Nelson, a nephew, who had been raised by Nelson's wife, the late Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson.

Four other heirs, Edgar Nelson of San Francisco, and Walter and Jennie Nelson of Alameda county, children of a deceased nephew, and Agnes Leigh, San Francisco, niece of Mrs. Nelson, were cut off with $1 each.

When the brother and nephew filed their contest, a jury in Judge Buck's court agreed with them that Mrs. Snyfeld had unduly influenced Nelson. But Judge Buck reversed the jury verdict, and granted judgment for Mrs. Snyfeld.

The appeal followed, with the district court ordering "that judgment be rendered rejecting the will in accordance with the verdict of the jury."

Village Green? It Resembles Polo Field

The newly planted lawn on the city's park along El Camino Real, on the Sequoia campus property, was damaged by footloose horses Sunday night.

"The suggestion has been made to make it a bowling green," said George Hopkins, city superintendent of parks, today. "But now it looks more like a polo field."

Asked how many horses romped upon the green, Hopkins replied: "I don't know, but it looks as though a troop of United States calvary had been there."

Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma is attempting to raise a $100,000 fund to aid college students.

Veterans Accuse McGrath of Reversing Self on Economy

Congressman John J. McGrath of San Mateo stood charged Monday by the San Mateo-Santa Clara Counties' Council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars with "reversing himself" on his campaign pledges for his support immediately upon his election of President Roosevelt's economy legislation affecting veterans.

The congressman was invited to be present at a week-end gathering of the veterans in the Hotel Benjamin Franklin in San Mateo, but he failed to show "for some unexplained reason," the council charged.

Declaring that they want an explanation of his asserted failure to carry out his promises, the veterans charged that the legislation which McGrath supported has cost his constituents "thousands of dollars and untold suffering and hardship by veterans who had placed faith and confidence in those pledges."

Although they heard many favorable reports on the results of the national administration's efforts through the National Recovery Act, the Civilian Conservation Corps and the Civil Works Administration, the veterans were not appeased and "strongly denounced" the effect of the economy act as passed by the last congress.

They pointed out that the care of the disabled and needy veterans, which is looked upon by the council as a national problem, was to a large extent transferred to the already overburdened taxpayers of the local communities.

In no uncertain language, the veterans emphasized a belief that this burden should not have been shifted from the "wealthy and big business" interests, which assertedly have made "millions and billions of dollars as a result of the past wars," to the "small business men and home owners."

"Every self-respecting veteran deeply resents the unfavorable publicity and misleading statements given wide circulation by the representatives of special interests seeking to blind the American people as to the facts," the council declared.

The veterans, however, expressed a belief that their efforts to force repeal of the economy act will be successful "when the nation realizes what an injustice has been done."

Officers of the council for 1934 were elected, and are as follows: C. E. Devenpeck, San Jose, commander; I. E. Nelson, Palo Alto, senior vice-commander; F. R. Linser, Daly City, junior vice-commander; H. A. Schlagle, San Bruno, quartermaster; W. E. Coxon, Mountain View, chaplain; Don C. Reid, Burlingame, advocate; Guy Smith, Mountain View, officer of the day; C. Fest, San Bruno; A. E. Franklin, South San Francisco, and Don Sevier, Redwood City, trustees.

Installation of these officers will take place in the Hotel De Anza in San Jose on January 13.

Why We Love Dogs

The best human interest story to appear for some time was printed in the Salinas Index-Journal the other day. It told of a dog sitting by the county jail hour after hour looking up to the window of the cell where his master is confined. He cannot see his master, but now and then he hears his voice, and his ears come up and his tail vibrates a bit with pleasure.

The master did something wrong in Monterey, and when he was brought to the jail the dog came along, but it is against the rules to allow dogs to accompany their masters behind the bars.

The dog waits. He does not know what has happened to his owner, he is not aware of anything wrong he has done. All he can do is carry on faithfully, and wait until his master comes to him again.

This pathetic little story partially tells why so many of us "give our hearts to a dog to tear," says the Journal.

Enter This Contest

The annual holiday pageant of thousands of glittering outdoor Christmas trees will be re-enacted in every city and town throughout the state and up and down the public highways again this year, thanks to the activities of the Outdoor Christmas Tree Association of California.

The movement, inspired by the delight of an invalid lad, seven years ago, has grown in such proportions that a goal of 75,000 outdoor Christmas trees has been set for this Yuletide.

The Redwood City Lions Club is sponsoring the movement here and should have the support of all tree lovers.

Redwood City 30 Years Ago

John Nelson has returned home after an absence of three years in the Hawaiian Islands.

The stork paid a visit to the home of S. Christiansen last Friday morning and left a son to cheer the household.

Edward Allen has resigned his position in the postoffice to take a place in San Francisco. Frank Peterson is his successor.

Guy P. Hull came from Lordsburg, New Mexico, Thursday last, to spend his annual holiday vacation with his parents and friends. Guy holds a responsible position with the Southern Pacific Company at Lordsburg and his many friends throughout this county are always glad to see him. He says the people of New Mexico to a unit are strongly in favor of statehood, and anticipate with delight the time when their fondest hope will be realized.

Bert Mansfield returned Wednesday from an extended trip through Nevada and Utah. While in Nevada he worked for the railroad company five weeks. He will enter Stanford in January.

County Board Opposes More Race Courses

On the ground that "there is ample sport of this nature" in the four existing race tracks, the board of San Mateo County Supervisors Monday urged the California Racing Commission to keep other prospective tracks off the San Francisco peninsula.

The board's action was unanimous, although at first two members sought to delay being forced to vote upon the issue at this time.

Supervisor Rosalie Brown, in whose San Mateo district it is reported that a second horse racing plant is to be established, said the board's stand was "premature" as no definite application had yet been filed with the racing commission.

Supervisor John Poole, Redwood City, took a similar stand.

The supervisors, they pointed out, will not have any say in the matter anyway, unless the racing commission should heed their resolution of protest.

Witt Insists

Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, insisted upon acting on the proposal, which was placed before the board in a communication from the San Mateo Park Improvement Association. The civic group, in a communication signed by Frank McGraw, president, said it was strange that San Mateo county should be singled out as the only county in the bay where horse racing tracks were to be established.

The resolution presented by McGraw's association and copied and adopted as the board's own, called attention to the "unfavorable publicity and unpleasant situation already created because San Mateo county seems to have become a mecca for the gambling fraternity."

It was further pointed out by the resolution that San Mateo county has one legitimate horse racing plant in Tanforan and three dog tracks at Belmont, Baden and Bayshore. These should "supply ample sport of this nature for this peninsula," the resolution read.

"Conditions surrounding race tracks are in our opinion unfavorable to the ideals of a home-loving community."

Delay Suggested

Dr. C. V. Thompson, chairman of the board and a resident of Burlingame, expressed a belief that one horse racing plant was enough for the peninsula and joined Supervisor Witt. Supervisor Brown then moved that the association's resolution be put off "for further consideration."

Supervisor Poole supported her motion, but on the vote Supervisor Thompson, Witt and Manuel Francis voted "no."

Witt then put a motion instructing District Attorney Edmund Scott to draw up the necessary resolution, which carried, and when the resolution was presented all five supervisors cast their votes in its favor.

Copies of the resolution were ordered sent to the racing commission, and to the improvement association.

CHILD WINS $550

Colma Farmyard Accident Claim Is Compromised

Guiseppe Maggi of Colma today petitioned the superior court here to approve for $550 a compromise of a claim against Tony Valerga of Colma for injuries incurred by Matilda Maggi, 7, when she was struck by Valerga's car, June 21. The child, according to the complaint, ran from behind a barn into the path of Valerga's car.

Menlo Park

The two large bells arriving at Corpus Christi Monastery last week were blessed at an impressive ceremony on Sunday and placed in the bellfry of the building the following day. They will toll three times a day calling the faithful to prayer.

The heavy storms for the past few days have done but little damage but have brought delight to the hearts of the farmer. Sufficient rain has not fallen to cause a flow of water in San Francisquito creek.

Duck hunters complain of the scarcity of birds in the local marshes. Gone are the days when these lowlands were the mecca for birds that could be taken by the hundreds. The surrounding grain fields lure the birds. Night shooting was permitted in those days so that large numbers were shot as the ducks flew to their feeding places.

Most every family in town is enjoying a menu of mushrooms. The recent warm rains have caused an abundance of the mushrooms to grow on the vacant fields on the Sandhill road.

A movement was started this week in Palo Alto to widen and extend the Willow road through the Hopkins estate to the state highway. This question has been agitated many times during the past few years but no tangible results could be reached. It is thought that federal funds could be obtained for the project which is a worthy one and one that would develop a large area. It would afford traffic relief.

Mayor William H. Weeden received word that his aunt, Mrs. Anne Booz, passed away at her summer home in Hudson, New York, a week ago. For several years the Booz family resided in the Seal cottage on Laurel avenue, and the daughter, Margaret, had charge of the young people's society at Trinity Episcopal Church. Mrs. Booz was active in local affairs and was loved by all who knew her. She was interred in the old historic Episcopal Church yard beside her husband and her son, Edward, a World War hero. Another son, Louis Booz, Jr., survives. Charles M. Weeden, a nephew and Mrs. Abbie Weeden Driscoll are her other survivers.

Msr. Frank Derry of Pine street who has been very ill is convalescing at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donold Derry of Redwood City.

Isabelle Weeden Lindquist, accompanied by Lina Guerrero, sang a group of old fashioned songs on a program in the Blue Room of Masonic Hall Thursday evening.

Don't forget the American Legion Auxiliary Carnival-Bazaar in Legion Hall Saturday night.

Mrs. George Condos is quite ill in the Palo Alto Hospital. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Because of the fear that Menlo Park's application to the Public Works Administration will be denied, the city will apply to the Civil Works Administration for funds with which to build the proposed city hall, the city council decided last Tuesday night.

The PWA application, however, will be kept on file at Washington until tentative approval may be obtained from the federal authorities in the state for the CWA application. It has been indicated that the lease contract plan under which the city proposed to secure a PWA loan is not looked on with favor by PWA authorities in Washington.

Total cost of the proposed city hall is estimated in the application to be submitted to the Civil Works Administration at $16,638 exclusive of the $2450 which the site selected will cost Menlo Park. This total is divided as follows: 187 man hours of unskilled labor, $112.50: 6044 man hours of skilled labor, $6044; supervisory and engineering work, $1531; materials, $6451; city's cash contribution, $2400.

Plans to call a special bond election in an effort to support the city's original application to the PWA have been abandoned by the council.

A total of $5,000 in CWA funds has already been allotted to Menlo Park for work along San Francisquito creek, including the installation of bulkheads.

Members of the council also discussed recently the possible extent of local control over liquor stores under the new state constitutional amendment. City Attorney George K. Whitworth was instructed to study the situation and report at the council meeting on December 26.

140 Present For Older Boys' Meet Sponsored by 'Y'

The Older Boys' Conference of the Young Men's Christian Association which was held Saturday and Sunday at Stanford drew 141 young men. They represented high schools and Y. M. C. A. club groups of San Francisco and the peninsula. Those coming from a distance were guests Saturday evening and Sunday morning at homes in Palo Alto.

The conference started on Saturday morning with the first sessions dealing with "Education and Vocations in the New World."

The boys enjoyed a demonstration at the wind-tunnel in the engineering laboratory and one on liquid air in the chemistry building.

The group had gymnasium privileges.

A talk on "Youth Surveys International Relations" was followed by a skit put on by the dramatic department and a comedy musical number.

On Sunday morning the conference again convened in the engineering building for a discussion on "Youth Inspects Religion." The young men attended the Stanford Chapel in a body.

Fred Hansen of Palo Alto talked on "The Challenge of the New World."

Fourteen Redwood City boys were in attendance, including the presidents of the two Hi-Y Clubs, Kenneth Bennett and Kenneth Moulton.

Two Men Injured In Skyline Mishap

SAN MATEO, Dec. 11.—Two San Francisco men were injured early Sunday when their car left the road near the Crystal Springs Country Club on the Skyline boulevard and overturned.

At Mills Memorial Hospital, John Biscaro, 159 Leland avenue, San Francisco, and George Garb, 606 Wallbridge street, Bayshore, were treated for injuries. They later were booked on charges of intoxication.

Giannini Car Is Tagged in Speeder Drive

Sixteen motorists were tagged last night and today for speeding between 45 and 58 miles per hour despite wet and dangerous highways and rain-fogged windshields.

Included in the citations issued was one for the car of A. P. Giannini, San Francisco banker and Hillsborough resident. His chauffeur, Joseph Garcia, of 873 Union street, San Francisco, was given a ticket for doing 58 miles per hour in a 45-mile zone.

The Giannini car also allegedly was equipped with illegal red lights.

The arrest was made by State Officer H. B. Fowler of Eldorado county, who is on special duty here.

Children Await Exchange Club Theatre Party

The program for the Exchange Club's annual Christmas party, which is given for all children of the community at the Sequoia Theatre, was announced today by Thomas J. Kane, theatre manager. The feature picture will be George O'Brien in "Smoke Lightning." There will be a comedy and a cartoon. Hugh Boyes will play the organ and Kane will lead in singing. Songs will include "The Three Little Pigs."

Santa Claus will be on hand and the program is to begin at 2 o'clock, Thursday, December 21.

Admission is free to children who have club tickets. Admittance is limited to juveniles.

Territo's Super Market To Have Santa Claus

Santa Claus will be a visitor in Redwood City next Wednesday night when he will appear at Territo's Market, 2616-18 Broadway.

He will give out bags of candy and other gifts to all children up to 10 years of age.

"Santa is making this trip as a special favor and we hope that you will all be here to see him and receive a gift," was the statement made by Joseph Territo, proprietor of the big super-market.

The time is 7:15, December 20, and the place is in front of Territo's Market, who will be hosts to the entire community on this night.

A big Christmas food sale will be conducted all next week at Territo's to celebrate their first Christmas in the new store.

Suit Brought Over 4-Death Auto Crash

Suit for $50,416 damages was filed here today by Mrs. Nellie Racey and Mrs. Irene Johnston, wife and mother of Albert D. Racey, San Francisco salesman, who was killed Big Game night in a Burlingame automobile crash which claimed three other lives.

The defendants are Don B. Tatum, Stanford student; his father, Frank D. Tatum, Los Angeles real estate operator, and his mother, Theresa M. Tatum. Tatum was driving a car south on the Bayshore highway. It was involved in a collision with Racey's car, which was going north.

Three companions of Tatum's died in the crash.

Ideas Differ On Causes of Auto Mishaps

The state will proceed at once to put in a dashed center line on the Bayshore highway with a stop sign at important intersections, leaving to the individual cities the responsibility of installing reflectorized signs.

That announcement made by G. T. McCoy, assistant state highway engineer, is a direct and important outgrowth today of the conference on Bayshore highway traffic conditions held at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, San Mateo, Monday afternon at the call of the California State Automobile Association, and attended by representatives of official and civic groups of San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Clara county points interested.

More Committees

In the meantime Percy E. Towne, manager of the state automobile association, who presided at the meeting, is under authorization of the group to appoint a committee to make a thorough study of all conditions responsible for the dreadful casualty toll on that highway and to recommend a corrective program. It is Mr. Towne's plan to form a permanent general committee of the 135 men and women present at yesterday's meeting, to choose an executive committee from that group, authorizing the executive board to appoint a technical committee to make the study.

Citing the 41 fatalities on the Bayshore highway to date this year, in addition to the staggering number of other accidents in which no loss of life figured, the group yesterday afternoon heard numerous officials and other citizens give their ideas as to the causes of the accidents and the proper remedies.

Causes Suggested

Speeding, drunkenness, insufficient numbers of traffic patrol officers, lack of illumination, tag fixing, courts' failure to back up traffic officers' efforts, improper use of the third lane, and lack of thoroughness in examining applicants for driving licenses were discussed as contributing causes to the Bayshore highway traffic dangers.

E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California Highway Patrol, pointed out inadequacy of revenues as a fundamental cause of lack of proper policing of the highways. The Bayshore highway, he said, ranks second only to the Whittier boulevard in Los Angeles in volume of traffic handled, yet it is impossible to get sufficient funds for its policing. He expressed the belief that part of the money now being spent to build more highways should be used instead to make safer those already in use.

"There are 34 vacancies in the state patrol, and we are using old equipment that should have been scrapped long ago," he said. "But this economy is costing human lives."

Judges Criticized

Chief Cato criticized judicial leniency in handling of traffic cases. In 10 months there have been 3,195 traffic arrests in San Mateo county, he said, of which 1,331 have been dismissed in court. He made a plea for a better backing of the patrolmen's efforts.

Guy C. MacDonald of the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce likewise scored the failure of courts to fine the law violators who are arrested. "We should get the idea over that both policemen and judges are going to be tough, if we want to cut down accidents," he said.

Coroner J. C. McGovern of San Mateo county declared that there is less punishment given to drivers who kill people than there is to those guilty of lesser traffic offenses.

Mayor W. H. Dusel of Redwood City declared that tag fixing should stop and that there should be heavy penalties for any official guilty of that practice. Mayor Dusel also declared that bad eyesight should disqualify a candidate for an operator's license "Drivers should at least be obliged to see a moving object and to judge distance," he said. He believed the speed limits should be enforced, and that drivers should be compelled to obey the stop-go signals.

Justice of the Peace Gus Risso of Burlingame was among those who went on record against tag fixing.

"No Tags Fixed in S. F."

Judge George J. Steiger of San Francisco found his remarks punctuated by an ejaculatory "oh" from the audience when he declared that in San Francisco nobody can get a tag fixed. He criticized the public for failure to back their safety law officers. He declared that a center division of the Esplanade in San Francisco had resulted in elimination of fatal accidents, and recommended that plan for the Bayshore highway. He favored "starting tomorrow to send to jail any driver who uses the wrong side of the road." The seriousness of the intersectional problem was illustrated by a reference to 46 deaths at intersections in San Francisco this year.

Mayor A. R. Cotton of San Mateo expressed the opinion that 45 miles was not a high enough limit.

A. W. Hoy, member of the Palo Alto Board of Public Safety, said that the Bayshore highway had been advertised to the world as a speedway, and he favored enforcement of the 45-mile limit.

Controller Almon E. Roth of Stanford University urged preventive features when planning subdivisions, mentioning especially intersections at an angle. The University avenue intersection with the highway he termed "the rottenest in the world." He also favored more parking space along the highways.

T. H. Dennis, state maintenance engineer, declared that the Bayshore highway represented the best standards of highway construction, being 40 feet wide, with eight-foot shoulders. He gave approval to the idea of a center marker, but not a curb, declaring the curbing would in itself be a new source of danger. The accidents, he said, are not due to an unsafe highway but to faults in the drivers.

Col. J. H. Skeggs, district engineer of the state division of highways, declared the Bayshore highway had been designed for fast travel, and said it was 100 per cent safe from the engineering standpoint after eliminating the human equation. A dividing curbing in the center, he said, would be too costly to consider, "even if desirable."

Creek Water Volume Small Despite Rain

Despite the more than two inches of rainfall within the past two days, run-off in the creeks feeding Stanford University's two reservoirs, Searsville and Felt lakes, had barely started today. Only a slight amount of water was flowing in any of the creeks.

The rain gauge at the Stanford corporation yard showed that 1.2 inches of rain had fallen in the 24 hours up to 8 a. m. Wednesday and .85 of an inch in the 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. Tuesday.

13,177,000 Bales Of Cotton in 1933

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (UP)—The agriculture department today estimated 1933 cotton production at 13,177,000 bales, compared with 13,002,000 bales last year. At the same time the census bureau reported that 12,108,292 running bales of cotton had been ginned from the 1933 crop prior to December 1, compared with 11,635,089 for 1932, and 15,018,403 for 1931.

The department estimated yield of lint cotton per acre at 209.4 pound on the 30,144,000 acres estimated for harvest this year, after removal, plus abandonment of 26.4 per cent of the 40,929,000 acres in cultivation in July 1, 1933.

The cotton ginning report by states for 1933 and 1932 included the following figures for running bales:

State	1933	1932
Arizona	58,972	46,548
California	151,950	106,370

High Winds Put Electric Lines Out of Service

While high winds played havoc with power lines here Tuesday and Wednesday, service was maintained with only two interruptions. Lines serving Woodside and North Palo Alto, however, were partially down, and those communities were without power.

The extensive air service from Mills airport at San Bruno was grounded by the storm as snow, rain and high winds lashed all of Northern California.

The storm, according to the United States weather bureau in San Francisco, was expected to last through tonight.

Driving rains swept Southern California today and claimed the lives of five persons in traffic accidents attributed to the storm.

In outlying sections of that city, stores were flooded to a depth of two to three feet and rowboats were used to ferry pedestrians across the streets.

North Fair Oaks Resident Passes Following Illness

Domenico Francesconi, 52, passed away early Wednesday at his home on 11th avenue in the North Fair Oaks tract. He had been ill for the past three weeks. He was a native of Italy, and had resided in Atherton for the past six years. He was a carpenter by trade.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Angelina Francesconi, and by two sons, Guido and Leo Francesconi. He was a brother of Mrs. Ellen Carli of this city, and Joseph Francesconi of San Mateo.

The funeral will be held on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home; thence to Mt. Carmel Church, where a requiem mass will be celebrated for the repose of his soul, commencing at 9:30. The interment will follow at Holy Cross Cemetery in Menlo Park.

Mrs. Bullock Loses Custody of Child

Joseph J. Bullock Jr., 11, son of Attorney Joseph J. Bullock, Atherton, and Mrs. Charlotte Bullock, Burlingame, was declared a ward of the juvenile court Monday by Superior Judge William F. James.

This new order revokes an order by Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt placing custody of the boy in the hands of the mother following the recent divorce action.

Judge James found that Mrs. Bullock had not provided the child with "proper education, care or sustenance." He ordered that the child be placed in St. Joseph's Military Academy at Belmont as a boarding pupil. Mr. Bullock will pay the expenses of education and care.

Man Using Stage To Clear Way on Bayshore Tagged

Hurling his huge Los Angeles-Seattle stage through space at the rate of 65 miles an hour and driving in the third lane on the Bayshore highway, Theodore R. Walling, 127 Ellis street, San Francisco, was given a tag Tuesday by State Officer R. A. Hewitt as a reckless driver.

And right behind the stage came W. B. Meyer, 477 South Market street, San Jose, who got the surprise of his life when Officer Hewitt flagged him down, too.

"I didn't think that state patrolmen stopped stages," Meyer is quoted as saying.

He explained that he used the stage to "run his interference" so that he could make good time, according to Officer Hewitt.

Both were cited to appear before Justice of the Peace Edward Farrell in South San Francisco.

EIGHTY YEARS OF BUILDING

THAT is what is represented by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company of today. The little gas company of pioneer San Francisco had a dozen miles of main and two or three hundred customers. Today's company, which grew out of it, extends into forty-five Northern California counties. Its customers number 1,250,000 and it serves a territory covering 89,000 square miles.

This great growth has been more than a mere part of the growth of the state itself. It has kept ahead of that growth and has been an important factor in promoting it. Our policy always has been to build ahead of demand, so that service would be available without delay when and where required.

All this progress did not "just happen." It resulted from careful planning, prudent management, sound policies. Periods of business stress were encountered when the company's future looked black indeed. Strenuous competition had to be met. Political attacks had to be endured. But the company survived and developed with friendly, courteous service and rates among the lowest in the country, building good will with the public and creating satisfied customers.

This company is not any one man's property; it is not the property of any group of men. It belongs to 90,000 stockholders, whose savings have been invested in the company. Eighty per cent of these stockholders live in California. The money paid them in dividends, and the money paid to other thousands as bondholders, goes into every community in the state and circulates to stimulate business in every channel of trade and industry.

These stockholders are the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. The management is made up of men hired to run this great enterprise because of their special training and consequent qualifications for the job.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company is in, of and for California. It strives to be patriotically Californian. It cooperates in every sound movement for the promotion of California's welfare. It employs more than 10,000 California citizens, whose wages help business everywhere. It is one of the state's largest buyers of California-produced materials and supplies.

It pays more in taxes than it does in dividends. Out of every dollar collected, approximately 14 cents is paid out in federal, state and local taxes.

Under the law the company is entitled to a fair return on its investment. This it must earn if it is to continue to render adequate service.

We have built with and for California for eighty years. We shall strive to build with and for California in the years to come.
